

We are open again and have so much to share!

From: The Mint Museum <digital@mintmuseum.org>
Date: Tue, Sep 22, 2020 at 4:13 PM
Subject: We are open again and have so much to share!

Come intrigued. Leave inspired.

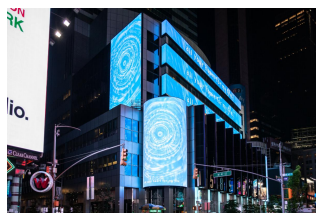

Welcome back! We have a lot to celebrate.

Our doors are open once again, and we have a host of stunning new works of art on view. Special members-only days are planned Sept. 22-24 with live music Wednesday evening at each location.

Mint Museum Uptown and Mint Museum Randolph reopen to the public with regular hours Sept. 25 at 11 AM. Celebratory activities include live music throughout the weekend, a cash bar and food for purchase, and everyone is admitted FREE.

New safety guidelines require visitors wear a mask, and timed-ticketing is in place so you can engage with the art in a stress-free environment. Reserve your ticket today.

Details

Messages for the City: A thank you to essential workers

Next time you stroll along Levine Avenue of the Arts, take a look at our newest digital installation Messages for the City on the giant Wells Fargo screen. Artist-made images and animations celebrate the work of frontline and essential workers.

Read

It's pottery month at The Mint Museum Store

Some of North Carolina's top potters are represented at The Mint Museum Store. Treat yourself or start your holiday shopping early with a 25% discount on all pottery at the store.

Read

Curator's Pick

We are sharing pieces from our galleries and collections to help bring peace and inspiration while we all practice social distancing. Our curators have chosen these pieces to give you the museum experience from home. To see more #CuratorsPicks, follow us on our social media channels.

George W. Bellows (American, 1882–1925). "Gorge and Sea," 1911, oil on canvas. Gift of the Mint Museum Auxiliary. 1983.35

Gorge and Sea. Gorge and Sea was painted in 1911 during the first of George Bellows three trips to Monhegan Island, Maine. Bellows technique, which is characterized by powerful, energetic brushstrokes, was an excellent match for the rugged nature of Monhegan Island. He was invigorated by his time on the remote island, reporting to his wife: "I feel a great pride in working so hard, in getting stronger and stronger, in being browned by the sun and hardened by work ... I tramped all over the ocean rocks ... and the basketball shoes clutch the cliffs like a fly's feet."

Don't Miss This

- Mecklenburg County moves ahead with funding to help local artists and nonprofits. (The Charlotte Observer)
- A theologian, writer, performer, poet, and photographer, artist de'Angelo Dia takes joy in the art of drawing. (The Charlotte Post)

- ArtPop seeks submissions for its #ArtPopCLT 2021 art campaign, including one high school student. (CharlotteFive)

The Mint Museum | Mint Museum UPTOWN at Levine Center for the Arts, 500 S. Tryon St,
Charlotte, NC 28202

About our service provider

Sent by digital@mintmuseum.org